

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

ASHLEY BRITANY ARREDONDO,

Defendant.

No. CR-13-008-WFN-7

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO MODIFY

On June 13, 2013, Defendant's release conditions were modified to permit Pretrial Services to alter Defendant's curfew as needed to permit Defendant to be employed, provided, however, employment was not to interfere with her treatment. Defendant has been fully compliant with her release conditions and now has her 8-year-old son living with her and her parents. She now asks to have a curfew that would allow her more time with her son and caregiving activities as a parent. Pretrial Services does not oppose the request. The Motion, is granted, provided however, Defendant shall use the additional time for lawful employment, treatment, bonding activities with her son, spiritual needs, caregiving activities such as buying groceries and taking her son to school and to medical appointments.

Defendant may not attend parties or other activities that would put her at risk of being around individuals using alcohol or unlawful drugs. Accordingly, to the extent she may wish to attend social activities, those activities shall be pre-approved by Pretrial Services. In addition, Defendant must attend at least two self-
